

Finish the package in gates, not another expansion spiral.

The plan is to lock truth first, then polish the template system, then move six products through proof gates. The plan covers at least four deliverables: corrected proposal/invoice, client hub/dashboard, State of the Union and Plan of Attack reports, KDP proof/finalization package, public Lady D author site, and separated testimony scope.

P0 payment truth

P1 template lock

P2 KDP proof lane

P3 client dashboard

P4 future testimony scope

Operating principle: no more public-facing ambiguity.

Every customer page should answer three questions clearly: what is included, what is owed, and what must happen before publication.

Phase Plan

Sequenced by risk reduction: money/scope first, template second, publication third.

0

Correct payment and scope - stop the confusion

Immediate - owner: Jon/IDC

- Use $2,000 package total, $600 paid, and $1,400 balance everywhere in the active package.
- Create a live Stripe link for $1,400 and replace `stripe-payment-link-pending-1400.html`.
- Keep Juan Damon testimony separate from this invoice unless a new scope is approved.

1

Lock the client-package template - make this reusable

Next build pass - owner: Codex/IDC

- Keep the IDC palm logo, teal/deep/gold/coral palette, pricing cards, signature blocks, and PDF-ready page sections.
- Use visual exhibits by job type: book covers for publishing, photos for trades/facilities, screenshots for software.
- Keep mobile navigation like Joyce and proposal clarity like Oakwood.

2

Move six products through proof discipline

Production finalization - owner: Jon + Lady D

- Freeze source manifests for the three devotionals and three journals.
- Collect author decisions: titles, covers, Bible policy, bio, dedication, acknowledgments, launch order.
- Generate final interiors and wraps only after page count and trim choices are locked.
- Run KDP Previewer and order physical proofs before public release language.

3

Apply the July 6 author-feedback pass

Content refinement - owner: IDC + Lady D

- Add actual scripture text to each devotional page after Bible-policy approval.
- Remove or simplify context-language material if it takes space from devotional depth.
- Fuse today's step / morning impact material into clearer journal prompts.
- Brighten and regenerate higher-resolution covers; finish journal page layouts with a human pass.
- Research Amazon author/editor-copy cost and workflow before the first upload.

4

Turn the hub into the client control room

Client visibility - owner: IDC

- Keep the corrected invoice, dashboard, State of the Union, Plan of Attack, author review books, and author site shell linked from one hub.
- Keep status language honest: review-ready, proof-ready, upload-ready, published.
- Use the dashboard for weekly status and approval requests.

5

Scope Juan Damon testimony separately

Future lane - owner: Lady D + family approval

- Collect source recordings, photos, family notes, sensitivity boundaries, and desired audience.
- Write a separate estimate with its own payment, timeline, review, and rights language.
- Do not blend it back into the current $2,000 invoice.

Deliverable Map

Deliverable 1

Corrected proposal/invoice

HTML + PDF, IDC logo, product-cover exhibit, $1,400 balance, testimony separated.

Deliverable 2

Client hub + dashboard

One clean route into invoice, books, reports, project gates, and payment status.

Deliverable 3

State + Plan reports

Flagship HTML reports that tell the truth, name the risks, and guide execution.

Deliverable 4

KDP finalization pack

Source freeze, author decisions, Bible policy, final interiors/wraps, Previewer, physical proof.

Deliverable 5

Lady D public site

Warm author/product shell modeled after Joyce with Lady D's own devotional identity.

Deliverable 6

Separate testimony package

Future estimate for Juan Damon testimony/autobiography with boundaries and approvals.

Immediate Task Board

TASK	OWNER	DONE WHEN
Create corrected Stripe link	Jon/Stripe account	Live checkout shows $1,400 and the retired checkout is not used.
Author decision sheet	Lady D + Jon	Titles, cover direction, Bible policy, bio, dedication, acknowledgments, and launch order are approved.
July 6 feedback pass	IDC	Scripture, context-language, prompt, cover brightness, and journal-layout changes are applied to a review sample.
Amazon copy economics	IDC	Author/editor-copy costs, proof-copy workflow, and retail pricing options are documented for Lady D.
Final proof build	IDC	Final PDFs/wraps have checksums and pass visual proof review.
KDP Previewer	IDC	Previewer screenshots/logs show no blocking margin/bleed/interior issues.
Physical proof	Lady D + IDC	Printed proof is reviewed, photographed, and approved before public release.

Client Template Rules Going Forward

Every proposal should include

- IDC brand/logo lockup and clear price box.
- What is included, excluded, paid, and owed.
- Visual exhibit section matched to the job type.
- Customer-friendly hub + downloadable PDF.
- Signature/approval area and payment-link status.

Every dashboard should include

- Current status and next owner.
- Completion gates, not vague progress claims.
- Links to live artifacts and PDFs.
- Separate future lanes clearly marked as separate.
- Mobile-friendly navigation and no hidden stale payment terms.

Evidence: local Lady D generator, original agreement extraction, May 5 and June 14 transcript summaries, July 6 Fireflies transcript 01KWXC5F7J9EPX9BDPXEBWVKK5, July 6 release-control brief, KDP proof/readiness packs, and visual references from the Lady D, Oakwood IDC, Joyce, and Martin-style package patterns.