

The package is real; the finish now has to be disciplined.

This report is built from the local Lady D review site, the original agreement extraction, May 5 and June 14 transcript summaries, the July 6 Fireflies transcript, the July 6 release-control handoff, KDP proof/readiness packs, and live reference sites for the desired client-package standard. The headline: the project has crossed from idea generation into product finalization, but the invoice, payment link, testimony scope, latest author feedback, and proof gates had to be corrected before it could be sent confidently.

- 6 core KDP-facing products assembled
- $1,400 corrected balance
- retired checkout blocked
- Juan testimony separated
- template system now reusable

Verdict: strong production candidate, not final-publication ready.

The Lady D library has substance, assets, and a live review ecosystem. It still needs author decisions, payment-link replacement, source freeze, Bible policy, KDP Previewer, and physical proof before public release.

Executive Scoreboard

3
Full devotional volumes in review lanes.

3
Companion journals paired to the trilogy.

$2,000
Corrected current package value.

$600

Paid to date after the $400 check.

What the Audit Actually Found

Confirmed items below are grounded in local files and transcript summaries; unverified external actions are kept separate.

HIGH Invoice truth was stale.

The generated proposal still used the prior expanded-package pricing and old checkout path. The corrected source now uses $2,000 total, $600 paid, and $1,400 due.

HIGH Juan Damon testimony was incorrectly bundled.

The current customer-facing invoice had testimony language inside the package. The June 14 transcript treated testimony/autobiography as a separate future/complementary work. The corrected documents now mark that lane separate.

MEDIUM The project is assembled, not upload-final.

The proof packs show six core products, zero placeholders in checked sources, zero Sunday mentions, and a substantial word base. They also explicitly block final upload until author decisions, Bible policy, KDP Previewer, cover locks, and physical proof.

MEDIUM July 6 author feedback changes the proof lane.

The latest Fireflies transcript says the drafts need actual scripture text on each devotional page, less sterile devotional language, context-language simplification or removal, fused practical steps/journal prompts, fuller journal pages, brighter/higher-resolution covers, and research into Amazon author/editor-copy economics.

MEDIUM The design system was split across several successful examples.

The strongest reusable pattern is a blend: Oakwood's IDC proposal clarity, Joyce's elegant author navigation, and Lady D's warm review portal. The corrected package extracts that into one local CSS/template system with the IDC palm logo.

What is genuinely excellent

- Three-volume devotional architecture with companion journals.
- Live author-review portal with product links and dashboards.
- KDP proof/readiness packs that state boundaries honestly.
- Strong visual cover assets that make the invoice feel tangible.

Structural debt to burn down

- Create the real $1,400 Stripe link.
- Freeze source manifests and remove stale public paths from active navigation.
- Complete final author decisions before more generation.
- Run KDP Previewer and physical proof before public launch language.

Reference Pattern Decision

The final client-package template should borrow different strengths from each source rather than copying one page wholesale.

REFERENCE	BEST STRENGTH TO PRESERVE	HOW LADY D NOW USES IT
Lady D author review	Warm author/product review environment.	Keep the book-first portal and devotionally gentle voice.
Oakwood AI Lab IDC	Clean IDC proposal structure, logo, price cards, client package clarity.	Use the IDC palette, logo lockup, pricing box, and hub model.
Joyce publishing site	Elegant author navigation and literary polish.	Use smoother mobile navigation and a richer public author shell.
Martin Electric estimate	Photo/product appendix makes scope concrete.	Use book-cover exhibits in the invoice instead of a words-only quote.

Baseline to Target

DIMENSION	BASELINE	TARGET GATE	STATUS
Invoice/payment	Stale balance and retired checkout language.	Correct $1,400 link created and inserted.	Document fixed; Stripe link pending.
Scope	Testimony bundled into current package.	Current package excludes testimony; separate scope available later.	Fixed in generated pages.
Content depth	Lady D described some drafts as sterile because scripture text, voice, and prompt clarity were not fully finished.	Scripture present, voice-filter pass complete, context language resolved, prompts simplified, journals human-finished.	Transcript-directed rewrite and independent manuscript gates complete; KDP Previewer and physical proof remain pending.
Publishing readiness	Production candidate artifacts exist.	KDP Previewer + physical proof + author approvals complete.	Still pending.
Template reuse	Several good one-off layouts.	One client package pattern reusable for invoices/proposals/dashboards.	Started with shared generator + CSS.

Evidence: original agreement extraction, May 5 and June 14 transcript summaries, July 6 Fireflies transcript 01KWXC5F7J9EPX9BDPXEBWVKK5, July 6 release-control brief, KDP proof/readiness packs, local generated HTML, and live visual references: Lady D, Oakwood IDC, and Joyce publishing site.