

Lady D Three-Volume Cover Candidate Board

Generated: 2026-07-01

Prepared for: Susan “Lady D” Damon

Series:

- Volume 1: Surrendering to God’s Love
- Volume 2: Walking with Jesus
- Volume 3: Filled with the Holy Spirit

Production Note

These are front-cover art candidates for review, not final KDP full-wrap covers. They intentionally avoid rendered title text so final typography, subtitle, author line, spine, back cover copy, barcode/ISBN area, bleed, and exact KDP dimensions can be built with professional layout control after the trim and page count are locked.

All cover art files are 1024 x 1536 pixels, matching a 2:3 portrait ratio for 6 x 9 front-cover review.

Current Recommendation

Primary trilogy route: use the Path direction as the retail-forward visual route across all three books. It reads clearly at thumbnail size, carries the devotional journey metaphor, and gives the final typography room to breathe.

Premium series route: use the Modern Sacred Minimal direction if the goal is a more luxury clothbound devotional-library identity.

Author-heart route: use the Sanctuary direction if Susan wants the warmer and more intimate prayer-room feeling to lead the series.

Volume 1 Notes

Sanctuary of Sunrise

Strengths:

- Warm, personal, reverent morning-prayer feeling.
- Strong fit for surrender and receiving the Father's love.
- Good upper title-safe area.

Risks:

- More gentle than retail-bold.
- Final crop should protect the hands and leave room for title hierarchy.

The Path of Surrender

Strengths:

- Strong devotional journey metaphor.
- Excellent thumbnail structure.
- Spacious sky for title and subtitle.

Risks:

- Familiar Christian devotional language; typography must make it distinct.

Modern Sacred Minimal

Strengths:

- Most premium and series-capable.
- Clean clothbound/foil feel.
- Strong typography control.

Risks:

- Needs confident final typography so it does not feel too quiet.

Volume 2 Notes

Sanctuary of Sunrise

Strengths:

- Scripture table, open room, and dawn path align well with discipleship and nearness.
- Warm enough for devotion without becoming sentimental.

Risks:

- Softer retail impact than the path option.

The Path of Surrender

Strengths:

- Clearest “walking” metaphor.
- Strong depth, road, dawn, and destination.
- Best candidate for immediate title readability.

Risks:

- Final typography must avoid making the image feel like generic travel inspiration.

Modern Sacred Minimal

Strengths:

- Strong premium trilogy option with open Bible, gold foil, and clothbound structure.
- Gives the Son volume a quiet, grounded identity.

Risks:

- Needs careful title scale at thumbnail size.

Volume 3 Notes

Sanctuary of Sunrise

Strengths:

- Rain, oil lamp, wind, and sunrise support the Holy Spirit theme without visual exaggeration.
- Comforting and mature.

Risks:

- The concept is more atmospheric than symbolic at small size.

The Path of Surrender

Strengths:

- Strongest drama and retail impact.
- The path, sky opening, rain-refreshing field, and oil lamp carry movement and power.
- Best first pick for Volume 3 if the series uses the Path route.

Risks:

- Final title must remain clean so the sky/light does not compete with typography.

Modern Sacred Minimal

Strengths:

- Distinct Spirit-volume identity with teal cloth, flame, wind, rain, and dove-white movement.
- Excellent series cohesion with the other Modern Sacred Minimal candidates.

Risks:

- More symbolic than narrative; needs premium typography and spacing.

KDP Next Steps

1. Choose a visual route: Path, Modern Sacred Minimal, Sanctuary, or a hybrid.
2. Lock trim size, paper type, and page count for each manuscript.

3. Calculate exact KDP full-wrap dimensions using final page counts.
4. Build front, spine, and back covers with bleed, safe zones, barcode area, and ISBN placement.
5. Add final title typography manually, not through image generation.
6. Export print-ready PDF covers and web-resolution marketing mockups.
